Shows & Exhibitions Edition

From the Editor

Joey Cee,
Publisher & Managing Editor

Out of the Showroom and onto the Exhibit Floor — Toronto vendors have a lot to show and sell!

No matter what the state of the economy dictates, history has shown that at times like these, many try to escape the news of gloom and doom by transferring their energy and thoughts into something more positive and entertaining. Getting out and staying involved or entertained are cures for the economy and, at times, weather-related blues - even if you can't afford what you see - it's always nice to dream. After all, isn't that why buy lottery tickets? Going to an exhibition of any kind will guarantee you a lot of easy walking exercise. You are usually so wrapped up by what you see that you usually forget you have walked the length of a convention hall several times over. That alone is a good reason to attend a show or marketplace.

In this edition of our online magazine, SHOWS & EXHIBITIONS, we have compiled and condensed a listing of indoor and outdoor consumer shows and exhibitions.

There is definitely no shortage of productions as you can see in this issue. Throughout the year, this edition will be updated and be available as a FREE download. Regular listing updates and additions can be found at any time by going to our website and clicking on the Shows and Exhibitions button in the instant links section.

I highly recommend that you pass this PDF format publication on to your friends and associates and also let them know that they can visit our website at www.TorontoOnDemand.com and download this and our other publications for FREE.

I hope you enjoy and use this digital magazine as your guide. Your comments and recommendations are always welcome.
